ISON Announcement

To enhance current and future scientific and technical cooperation, related to optical observations of celestial bodies and anthropogenic space objects, between Keldysh Institute of Applied Mathematics of the Russian Academy of Sciences (KIAM RAS) and other research and education organisations, and to eradicate potential areas of misunderstanding, hereby announce that International Scientific Optical Network (ISON) was started at KIAM RAS by its staff members and now coordinated by KIAM RAS. ISON as an integral part of the corresponding core facility of KIAM RAS may participate in international activities solely on behalf of and under the direction of KIAM RAS.

Acting Director of KIAM RAS
Dr Mikhail Markov
